

TR-11: 1983 Trip to Tashkent, USSR (Sept. 3 - ?, 1983)

September 3-4, 1983, flew to Moscow.

Mon. 5th Took subway to Red Square & walked around a little. In pm flew to Tashkent.

Tues. 6th. Now he is attending some kind of meeting, which he never describes; but where he gave a speech which had to be translated. He then talks about the accommodations and how he feels desiccated "can't get enough of the mineral water."

Wed. Sept 7 "Very busy schedule today: 9 papers 4 in am in 4 h, is OK but 5 in pm in 2 ½ h a bit much the way things go here. (I think he had to deliver that many papers, or listen to them.)

Anyway, that is the last dated entry. There are some scattered notes on Chinese archeology.

The last few pages gives a list of Entertainments in Moscow, a list of the people attending the seminar, Good News & Bad News about the Russian Communist system, then reviews of various hotels he was in,

And that's it. No clue as to when he returned.
